Luther McCarthy Killed in Fight

Calgary, May 24.—Luther McCarthy, heavyweight champion of the world, died in the ring from a chance blow delivered somewhere in the region of the solar plexus, the end of the battle coming after one minute and forty-five seconds of fighting. There had been one or two mixups of an inconsequential character, then came a clinch. Referee Eddie Smith separated the men. Both squared off in pugilistic attitude. Neither seemed the worse for the clinch. Suddenly McCarthy was seen to double up in a crouching attitude. To the spectators it looked as though his crouch was simply a fighting pose. But he continued to go over, his eyes rolling in his head, then he collapsed and fell full length on the floor of the ring.

The referee assuming that he had been knocked out, stooped over him to count the fatal seconds.

It was the final count for the young champion. Arthur Pelky, winner of the heavyweight championship, at such heavy cost, stood as one side of his fallen adversary. He could scarcely realize what had happened. By this time the referee had become alarmed. He called for a doctor; several responded. The Royal Northwest Mounted Police were called in to clear the ring of the crowd, which had swarmed over the ropes. The physicians worked over the stricken man for eight minutes when they pronounced him dead.

There were probably ten thousand men in the arena when it became known that McCarthy was dead. A few minutes before, whetted by the lust of primitive battle, the two or three preliminaries that had been fought and by the encounter of the two champions, it had been a howling mob, but the news put a quietus on the spirits of the spectators and they filed quietly out of the arena, shocked beyond expression by the tragic ending of the battle. Both men were apparently in splendid condition when they entered the ring. McCarthy was the first to climb over the ropes. He was laughing and joking with his friends and assistants, and was apparently in a very confident mood. A few minutes later Pelky appeared. Both men were cheered, Pelky a strong local favorite, receiving the greater volume of plaudits.

The men shook hands, were photographed, and the bout started. The men sparred cautiously with the opening, both handling themselves well. There were several mix-ups of no consequence, though Pelky jabbed McCarthy on the jaw. It was a good stiff blow and McCarthy winced, but smiled, then, after about a minute of fighting there was a fierce exchange and a clinch.

In this clinch McCarthy received the blow which caused his death. The referee separated the fighters. McCarthy stood near his corner with Pelky near the centre of the ring. Both men were fainting. Suddenly McCarthy assumed what seemed to be a crouching position. He was in this attitude probably ten seconds, then his eyes rolled back in his head and he fell over on the floor. The referee and crowd thought it was a knockout and the official stood over McCarthy and made the customary counts, then holding up the hand of Pelky to indicate that he had been declared the winner.

McCarthy's seconds had rushed to his side and began to work over him. After a few seconds, a physician was asked for. Even then the crowd did not realize the seriousness of his condition. A few minutes later his death was announced.

Under the laws of Alberta every spectator is liable to arrest for manslaughter. Just before the bout, a local minister made his way to the ringside and asked permission to say a few words. He was introduced by Announcer Tommy Burns. The minister said he did not disapprove of boxing, that he had boxed himself when he was younger. He said he had witnessed the preliminaries and had seen nothing brutal in the exhibitions. He concluded by inviting all present to church Sunday, and he was given a respectful hearing.

McCarthy, who began and ended his pugilistic career in Calgary, was born in Hastings, Nebraska, and was 21 years old. His career in the pugilistic world has been meteoric. During the past year he had won a number of notable battles, his finest one being with Frank Moran in New York on April 30th.

The physician who attended McCarthy and who made a thorough examination after death, contends that the collapse of the fighter was due to either organic heart trouble or a paralysis of the heart. He stated that owing to his condition a blow over the heart was sufficient to cause his death.

William McCarney, McCarthy's manager, is prostrated over the tragic ending of his protege. When the physicians pronounced him dead, McCarney burst into tears.

"All that there is to say is that Luther was the cleanest and best boy I ever had anything to do with," was his statement to the Western Associated Press.

"I am very sorry," said Tommy Burns, manager of Pelky. "It is one of the things which cannot be helped and my sympathy goes to Pelky too. He was no more responsible for what has happened than a man would be who was a mile away from the ring."

Pelky was too overcome by the tragedy to make any statement. He was arrested by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police this afternoon, on a charge of manslaughter and was released on bail of $3,500 a short time later.

Eddie Smith, sporting editor of the Chicago Examiner, who referred the bout, gave a statement to the effect that Pelky, in his opinion, gave the blow which sent McCarthy to the mat and his death.

James Short, K.C., stated that in addition to the information laid against Pelky, it was possible some of those closely associated with the game.

Calgary, May 26.—Burns arena, the scene of Saturday's tragic event, when Luther McCarthy lost his life, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The origin of the fire was an incendiary. Four other deaths were narrowly averted.

Wesley Benson, his wife and two children, were asleep in a corner of the building and escaped just as the flames commenced to lick up that portion of the building in which they were sleeping.

The building is covered by insurance.

Barnes' Big Shows Coming

Al. G. Barnes' Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus will give two performances in Lacombe on June 3. The coming of this show is eliciting a great deal of interest and enthusiasm, not only with the little ones but the grown-ups too.

Stamped by the public, press and pulpit as the grandest and most gorgeous aggregation of its kind in the entire world, the show will exhibit here presenting each and every one of the features as honestly advertised. It will be the only show of any importance exhibiting here this season, bringing the latest and most up-to-date animal acts of America and Europe.

There are 350 animals with the Al. G. Barnes circus, each of which is a performer. Among them are a herd of elephants, camels, Royal Bengal tigers, pumas, bears, leopards, jaguars, hyenas, zebras, monkeys of every known species, dogs and ponies. With this show may be seen more animals than ever collected before at one time and offered for exhibition either in this country or abroad.

More than half a hundred heart-splitting acts are presented at each and every performance in steel arenas under the direction of the world's most celebrated animal trainers.

Without a doubt the most dangerous, death-defying, thrilling and prodigious act ever offered to the public may be seen with the Al. G. Barnes Circus. It is the act of "Ricardo" with his 20 man-eating forest-bred African lions.

A few of the many other favorite acts to be seen will be that of Maj. Robert Thornton and his troupe of bears; Capt. Stonewall and his sea lions; Prof. Emery and his herd of Siamese elephants; Miss Bonde and her educated Arabian stallions, which perform in unison with a lion, bear, dog and monkey; Capt. Englehart and Prince Congo, an Orange Outang who does everything but talk.

Each and every performance will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Barnes, who is best known in every village and hamlet of any size in the United States and Canada as "the animal master of America's greatest showmen." This is the one show that's different. With it there are no immoral exhibitions of any kind. No thieves or crooks are allowed to travel on any one of the 25 railroad cars needed to transport the show.

A gorgeous street parade, headed by three military bands, will leave the show grounds at 10.30 o'clock on the day of the exhibition. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors are opened one hour preceding the performance.

Quite a little commotion was created on Main street last Saturday afternoon. A delivery horse took fright on seeing on Barnett Avenue anything so antiquated as a prairie schooner, and ran away. Making a short turn at the corner of Nanton street he threw the driver from the rig and dashed into a team tied to a post. For a few minutes there was a general mix-up, but it was soon straightened out without any more serious damage than a broken buggy pole.

The Presbyterians are holding a big Church Congress in Toronto in connection with their General Assembly this year, to which they invite every minister in the connection and his wife, and one layman from each congregation. Their expenses will be paid for in full. Rev. M. White is unable to take advantage of the opportunity, but Mrs. White started east the middle of the week. The Lacombe congregation appointed Thos. Sinclair their representative, and he left on the early morning train Tuesday.

A man named Rider was brought into the Lacombe hospital by the R. N. W. M. P. on Wednesday last from the Clive district. The man was subject to epileptic fits and had experienced several lately. Although all that could be done to help him was done, he died early on Thursday morning. The remains were interred in Lacombe cemetery, Rev. E. J. Tate, of Clive, officiating.

Tate, of Clive, was elected representative to the Stationing Committee, and the following laymen were elected members of the annual conference to meet in Medicine Hat on May 30—Geo. Hutton, H. M. The Cemetery

The council this week commenced the work of putting the Lacombe cemetery in order. Men have been engaged and all the old grass and debris of various kinds has been gathered up and burned. The walks through the graveyard will be opened up and put in good shape. It would be well if all who have relatives buried here would interest themselves in beautifying the cemetery. At present this place is a disgrace to a civilized community. In all parts of the grounds grave stones have fallen down, weeds and brush have grown up over the graves, and the place presents a most desolate appearance. If those interested would contribute a few dollars each, a man can be employed to put the grounds and graves in proper condition. A well will be dug for the convenience of those who wish to plant their plots with flowers. The council will see that the fences are put in order and the grass and weeds kept down. All desirous of contributing to a fund to beautify the cemetery should communicate at once with the chairman of the committee, Coun. H. L. Brown.

The Gull Lake Road

While the government has spent nearly $30,000 on the nine miles of road west of Lacombe during the past year, this piece of highway is not yet in a fit state for travel. At the present time the roadway is covered with large boulders, which make fast travel impossible, and farmers drawing heavy loads complain that it is a killer on their horses. What the road needs now is men with shovels to go over it and fill the small ruts and bury the rocks. The present method of running the drag over it every few days is only making it worse, as the drag brings to the surface the rocks that might otherwise remain buried and in time make a road.

The Electric Railway

Frank Vickerson, who recently visited Winnipeg in connection with the Lacombe and Blindman Valley Electric Railway, reports that E. K. Strathy, of the firm promoting the road, states that work will be commenced in a short time, and that it is the intention of the company to have the road built as far as Bentley this year. Members of the firm will visit Lacombe in the near future, when it is their intention to get up a representative delegation to go to Edmonton and interview the government with reference to having a subsidy granted, or the bonds of the railway guaranteed. Mr. Strathy says he has no doubt of the ability of his firm to raise the money sufficient to commence the construction this summer.

Firemen's Sports

Favored with ideal weather and the largest crowd that has ever attended a celebration here, the Firemen's Sports on Victoria Day will go on record as the best ever held in Lacombe. Visitors were here from all parts of the Province, and when the first race was called, over two thousand people were on the grounds. The horse races, which were participated in by local horses only, were first-class events, the only tame item on the program being the bucking contest, in which buckless horses were used. The athletic events were also well contested and were watched with interest.

The baseball match between Ponoka and Lacombe was a feature of the afternoon. A large crowd surrounded the diamond and rooted for their home teams to their heart's content. The score at the close stood 16 to 11 in favor of Lacombe. Both teams showed lack of practice, and both pitchers were wild. With a little more practice Lacombe can put a strong team in the field.

As the Bulltown football team did not put in an appearance, one football game was played—Chigwell vs. Lacombe. The game was well fought out and resulted in a victory for Chigwell by a score of 2 to nil. The goals were scored by E. L. Chicanot and W. J. Grant. There will be another match between these teams in the near future.

A very pleasing feature of the afternoon was the music supplied by the Lacombe band. This organization has been working hard for several months and under the able leadership of H. Gottschlich is making splendid progress. In a short time Lacombe will boast of a band second to none on the line.

Following is the program and winners.

The Firemen have decided to make the celebration of Victoria Day an annual event, and the success that attended their efforts this year has provided an incentive for greater things in the future. The gate and grandstand takings amounted to somewhere around $225, which was ample to pay all expenses and leave a small surplus.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. General Conference S.D.A.

Washington, D.C., May 26.—Elder G. F. Haffner, superintendent of the German work of the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination in the western part of the United States, gave a rousing report of the work that has been done by the various ministers and other gospel workers in that section before thousands of delegates and visitors attending the quadrennial session of the world, or general conference of Seventh-Day Adventists at Takoma Park.

Elder Haffner said that his denomination has established churches in St. Louis, St. Joseph, Portland, Oregon, Spokane, Washington, Los Angeles, California, and other places in that locality. He said that the work of winning souls to salvation in these various places has met with success, and during 1912, 408 have been baptized and 390 added to the churches, and seven new churches organized. At the close of 1912 he said that the denomination was conducting 92 churches among the Germans, and in addition to the several thousand members there were also several new adherents scattered in various places. They are also conducting 95 Sabbath schools with a membership of 3,846. He further said:

"The amount of tithe paid by our German churches in the West amounts to fifty thousand dollars or more, Sabbath school donations to $7,025, for missionary work $11,890.80, or a total for the foreign mission work of $18,915.80.

"Our force of workers is composed of twenty-seven ordained ministers, five licensed ministers, two Bible workers, and thirty-two other workers. The total expense of the conference workers is about twenty-two thousand dollars. This includes their salaries and traveling expenses. Taking this from the fifty thousand dollars which is paid in by the German churches in the Western Division, twenty-eight thousand dollars is left to be used among other nationalities. The tithe paid per capita, as far as is reported, amounts to $14.67; the offerings to missions, per capita, $5.95. This amounts to eleven cents per week. We should also remember that our churches have paid to the German Seminary in Clinton, Mo., about twenty thousand dollars during the last year or so. Adding this to the weekly offering, would make more than twenty cents per week per member.

"Besides the Clinton German Seminary, we have five German departments carried on in various English-speaking schools. The largest of these is at Walla Walla College, with two teachers and from twenty to thirty students. The other four departments are connected with the following schools:—Harvey, North Dakota; Redfield, South Dakota; Lacombe, Alberta; and Lodi, California, with a total of one hundred and twenty-five students. We also have 14 church-schools, with 16 teachers and 400 pupils. These, together with the 160 who attend the Seminary, make nearly seven hundred of our young people and children attending our own schools."

A Treat for Theatre Goers

Manager Shilleto has secured for Tuesday and Wednesday, June 3 and 4, one of the grandest picture plays ever produced —"Cleopatra." This feature is in six reels—6,000 feet, and the production cost upwards of $50,000.

This motion picture is the largest and most superb dramatic expression of the motion picture ever achieved. It is distinctly in a class to itself. Nearly three miles of film were employed in the work of production, and out of this was selected one mile of film which constitutes the completed picture. The time required to project the picture is approximately one hour and a half. A splendid corps of the highest-salaried artists, carpenters, property men, modelers, costumers, etc., was occupied two months in preparing for the work, while over three months were employed in rehearsing and taking the picture. The actual cost of the entire production was forty-five thousand dollars. In the course of the action of the drama Miss Gardner wears jewels, robe textures and quaint Oriental weaves that cost over one hundred thousand dollars. Two of her costumes were made of material several hundred years old —heirlooms purchased by a material ancestor in Egypt in the Seventeenth Century. The picture is remarkable for its refined sumptuousness, its tremendous dramatic power and gripping interest, and its entire freedom from those vulgarities common to Oriental dramas. In short, the picture was produced for Canadian men and women of culture and taste.

This motion picture does not purport to be realistic; it is a romantic idealization of the character of Cleopatra, and must be considered as such by the critical. The treatment is designed to attract and interest through its beauty of thought, pictorial arrangement, and dramatic nature, and its profound respect for those inspiring qualities in womankind which are little understood by man, and to which sympathy is rarely extended by a prudish world. Above all, the object has been to record in pictures a story of this wonderful woman which should not jar nor injure the tenderest susceptibilities.

At Calgary and Edmonton the theatres charged their patrons 50c. and 75c. to see the production. Mr. Shilleto has determined that the price here will be most reasonable, and has put it at 25c. to all parts of the house.

The Hand That Moves The Lever Saves 16 2-3 Per Cent. of Your Coal Bill

Here is the opportunity for the housewife to deal the high cost of living question a hard jolt without any effort on her part.

The way is to make sure that her new range is controlled by a Gurney Economizer, which will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 burned in an ordinary range.

The Economizer is to the stove what the control lever is to the engine or automobile. Without control neither is efficient.

With the Gurney Economizer it is possible to quickly vary the heat of the oven. Various foods require different temperatures. The Economizer keeps this desired temperature absolutely uniform.

It also means that when cooking is over, you may have a cool kitchen and still have your fire going—while you can have the fiercest heat in a few minutes by a slight pressure on the lever.

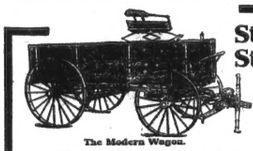

If you possess a Gurney-Oxford your advantages are immumerable. The Divided Flue means heat for every hole on the stove. The New Special Grate guards the lowest fire. The Broiler exposes every inch of the coals.

These features are exclusively "Gurney-Oxford."

It will furnish your kitchen handsomely—it will do your work adequately.

The Modern Wagon.

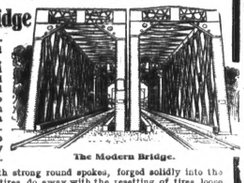

Steel Wheels Steel Gears

You know the advantages steel construction has over wooden construction. You wouldn't even think of buying a wooden frame cultivator. Why then a wagon of wood? Everyone realizes that the steel wagon will soon be the only wagon used.

The DAVENPORT ROLLER-BEARING STEEL FARM WAGON

Is Built Like a Bridge

Constructed of I-beams, channels and angles, solidly riveted together with large steel rivets, put in hot. The gear parts and the wheels are trussed and braced like the modern steel railway bridge, built for the heaviest lifetime service. In the Davenport you have a wagon of 5000 pounds capacity, stronger and more durable and of lighter draft than any other wagon of equal capacity.

The Modern Bridge.

The WHEELS of steel, with strong round spokes, forged solidly into the hubs and hot riveted into the tires, do away with the resetting of tires, loose spokes and cracked felloes.

Roller-Bearings Reduce the Draft 30% to 50%

Last a Lifetime

The Roller-Bearing.

No Repair Bills to Pay

You know the difference between dragging a thing and rolling it. Well, the Roller-Bearings have this advantage on the Davenport.

FARMING WOULD BE EASY IF WE USED THE KNOWLEDGE AVAILABLE ON THE THEME

That the average farmer gets little from the work of experiment stations, demonstration farms, agricultural colleges and other sources of scientific investigation where his problems are worked out is a generally accepted fact. The old saying anent the possibility of leading the horse to water though impossible to compel him to drink certainly has the case of the farmer and scientific investigation as a brilliant example. Without further investigation of scientists toward the discovery of new facts, if all that is already known were to be applied to every acre of farming land now under cultivation there would be no worry as to the source of the food supply of the future. In other words, were the earth farmed as a business for the next century and a manager put in charge who had all the truths of farming thus far worked out at our experiment stations and laboratories at his command, he would be able to provide abundant food for all at low cost and still reap big profits and leave the soil in better condition after a century of farming than it is today.

The bulletin has failed as a means of bringing farm truths to the average tiller of the soil. It has been made much more helpful in the past few years through illustrations, simplification of the language used by scientific writers, and the general uplift of the average farmer through education. But it is a failure nevertheless. Experiment stations have puzzled over getting their facts to the average farmer until they have come to the conclusion that the average farmer "is from Missouri," hence must be shown. Bulletins are still mailed out, of course, the better class of farmers getting much good from them, but the kind of facts that do the greatest good and reach the greatest number are those that are actually demonstrated on the farmer's own soil, before his eyes and under conditions such as he has to wrestle with. The farm demonstrator has come in to teach the farmer how to farm his own land to get the most from it, not only this season, but next season and the seasons which his sons and grandsons will be farming the same piece of land. Ontario, the Southern States, and now the other States are getting to this part of education by the government on lands that need scientific cultivation to get returns that pay on land worth $200 and $300 per acre. Railroads have established experimental farms, ready-made farms sent out special trains manned by instructors who were specialists in their various lines, and done everything possible to bring the knowledge worked out in the laboratories and on the experimental farms to the attention of the practical farmer that he may use this knowledge to make farm life more profitable for himself and the community in which he lives more prosperous.

Seeing is believing, even to those who have not the time or inclination to read bulletins and study out theories as they would apply to their own farms. The Dominion Government has a list of bulletins available for distribution through the various branches of the Department of Agriculture. These may be had free from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, and as they apply especially to Canadian conditions and contain the best scientific knowledge along these lines they should be in the hands of every farmer able to read.

CANADIAN ESTIMATES PASS 200,000,000 DOLLARS

Ottawa—When the House rose at 6 o'clock on May 20, Hon. W. T. White tabled the supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year. They call for an additional proposed expenture of $23,470,316. When this is added to the main estimates of $179,152,185, it makes a total proposed expenditure of $202 622,500, apart from railway subsidies still to be brought down. For the first time in the history of the Dominion the estimate expenditure exceeds the $200,000,000 mark, but the actual expenditure is likely to fall below that figure as the money voted is never all spent within the fiscal year. The actual expenditure usually falls about ten per cent. below that estimated.

Of the total of the new estimates brought down, $17,328,889 is chargeable to consolidated account and $6,141,506 to capital account. The total expenditure provided for on consolidated fund account is $143,179,147, and on capital account $59,443,352. The largest item in the supplementaries brought down is $1,000,000 which will be spent for the construction, leasing or purchase of interior terminal storages elevators in the west in accordance with the policy of the government as announced by Hon. George H. Perley, acting minister of trade and commerce, last week.

Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, calls for further votes of nearly half a million. In this amount, $100,000 is an additional sum required for annual drill.

On the basis of an annual expenditure of $1,500,000 under the highway act, the subsidy is divided in the estimates among the several provinces as follows: Alberta, $78,282; British Columbia, $82,005; Manitoba, $95,196; New Brunswick, $73,524; Nova Scotia, $102,870; Ontario, $527,201; Prince Edward Island, $19,584; Quebec, $418,449; Saskatchewan, $102,889.

A total vote of $3,300,000 on capital account is provided for harbors and rivers. It includes $500,000 each for government drydocks at Esquimalt and Halifax, naval bases; $600,000 additional for Victoria harbor, B. C.; $500,000 additional for each of the harbors of St. John, Vancouver and Toronto and $200,000 additional apiece for Port Arthur and Fort William.

The approximation for the outside post office service include a vote of $22,960 to provide for changes in connection with the placing of the Saskatoon office on a city basis. There is a vote of $17,550 for the Moose Jaw post office for a similar purpose. The items provide that in both these cases the salaries of the staff may be readjusted and the appointments made notwithstanding anything in that portion of the Civil Service Act affecting the outside postal service.

Under the head of the transcontinental railway a sum of $100,000 is provided for the operation of the line from Moncton to Edmundston, N.S.

Miscellaneous items include a sum of $20,107 to defray the expenses in connection with the marriage reference to the supreme court and privy council.

Under this heading there is also a vote of $14,600 to the fund for the relief of the family of Captain Scott, of South Pole fame.

The only vote for the department of naval service is one of $40,000 to pay the cost of the patrol of the northern waters of the Dominion. This is the sum which goes to the Stefansson exploratory expedition.

The civil government votes include a considerable number of salary increases, among them $3,000 additional to the salary of Deputy Minister Newcombe, of the Department of Justice, making it $10,000 annually.

Under the vote for agriculture, $100,000 is provided for branch stations of experimental farms.

The militia and defence votes also include $50,000 additional for school teachers' courses for cadet corps, and $30,000 toward establishing remount depots in the new training areas.

Additional salaries for customs officials call for a vote of $190,800, while there is a vote of $10,000 for preliminary expenses connected with the purchase of a telescope for the Dominion observatory. Mail subsidies include a vote of $400,000, being an additional amount required for the new all-Canadian service between Canada and Great Britain.

The buildings to be erected in Alberta are:—Athabasca Landing, immigration hall, $4,500; Athabasca Landing, addition to public building, further amount required, $2,000; Calgary immigration building, further amount required, $5,000; Calgary, accommodation for assistant receiver-general, $50,999; Castor, public building, $10,000; Edmonton, customs examining warehouse, $100,000; Grand Prairie, immigration hall, $5,000; High River, public building, $20,000; Macleod public building, revote of $10,000 lapsed and $40,000; Medicine Hat, public building addition, $35,000; Red Deer, public building, further amount required, $30,000; Strathcona, public building, $6,000; Vermilion, public building, $25,000; Wainwright, public building, $5,000; Wetaskiwin, public building, to provide for government share of cost for sewer and sidewalks, $270.

LIVE STOCK

Some 10,000 head of Mexican cattle are to be shipped north for delivery to Alberta cattlemen soon, according to reports from some of the best authorities. The Dominion Government has sent a veterinarian to Mexico to test the stock so that it may be shipped straight through without unloading and inspecting twice. Last year's venture with Mexican cattle has been so satisfactory to our big ranchers that they have decided to get another consignment. Though they were keen for a big bunch of these Mexican cattle again this year, it looked for a time as though it would be impossible to bring them out of Mexico with the country in its present state of turbulence, though an order had been placed for some months.

The U. S. cattlemen have silenced their objections to free cattle, but they don't especially like the free meat idea that is asked by President Wilson. Free meat will boom the Canadian packer's game, they say, Montreal and Toronto getting the Canadian cattle on the hoof, slaughtering them and competing for the New York and eastern U. S. markets. This would be the situation were cattle put at 10 per cent. and meats made free, though both free meats and cattle would give the corn belt states cattle to finish on corn. On the other hand, Canadian packers would be deprived of the young stock, and their business would be hit with such an arrangement. Whichever way they make the tariff, it looks pretty good to Canadian cattle growers.

CITY CIRCULATION AGENT

Of Leading Montreal Daily Endorses GIN PILLS

"FIVE long years of suffering from Kidney Trouble—two boxes of GIN PILLS—and it's all gone. That has been the experience of Mr. Eugene Quesnel, Chief City Circulation Agent of La Patrie, of Montreal. He describes it feelingly:

Montreal,
May 3rd, 1913

"I have been suffering from Kidney Trouble for over five long years. I had also Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles, could not sleep nights and on some occasions could hardly walk. I had been treated by some of our best Physicians but without relief and I lost over fifteen pounds. One day I met one of our leading hotelkeepers, who had been cured by your famous GIN PILLS, and he advised me to try them. So I bought two boxes at my druggist's and before I had used one box I felt a big change. Before I finished the second one I was completely cured.

I can assure you I can hardly believe it for if I had only known what I know now I would not have spent over One Hundred Dollars for nothing when two boxes of GIN PILLS cured me."

EUGENE QUESNEL.

GIN PILLS are gaining a world-wide reputation, by the way they conquer the most obstinate cases of Rheumatism and all kinds of Kidney Trouble.

In tone production lies the real test of any record. The Blue Amberol is the clearest, sweetest, most lifelike record that has yet been made.

But it is more. It is practically unbreakable. A fall from the table won't smash it. And it is so sturdy that the results of the thousandth time you play it are as perfect as the first.

Concrete is the best building material

A BROAD statement—Yet literally true. The aim of man from the beginning has been to make his building materials as nearly like natural stone as possible. The great labor required to quarry stone led him to seek various manufactured substitutes. The only reason he ever used wood was that it was easiest to get and most convenient to use. Wood is no longer easy to get. Like most building material, its cost is increasing at an alarming rate.

The cost of concrete is decreasing. So, from the standpoint of either service or economy, Concrete is the best building material.

Canada's farmers are using more concrete, in proportion to their numbers, than the farmers of any other country. Why?

Because they are being supplied with

The secret of concrete's popularity in Canada lies in the fact that while we have been advertising the use of concrete, we have also been producing, by scientific methods, a cement so uniformly high in quality that the concrete made with it gives the complete satisfaction our advertisements promised.

Concrete would not have been in such universal use today, had an inferior grade of cement been supplied. Insist upon getting Canada Cement. It is your best assurance of thoroughly satisfactory results from your concrete work. There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

Without this label it is not "Canada" Cement.

Government Policies and Live Stock

These are parlous times in the sphere of agricultural effort. From the live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture we get the information that the government will distribute pure-bred males of the different classes of stock in districts where these are not readily available. And from the Provincial Department of Agriculture we learn that the provincial government, in conjunction with other agencies, is going to distribute pigs to farmers at a certain nominal figure. Surely the thinking that has led up to the decision to adopt such policies is confused. True, the objects are most laudable. The idea is to promote a more permanent and more profitable system of agriculture, and to differ with the members of the departments upon the question of methods is not agreeable and subjects one to the suspicion of being opposed to the interests of the farmers. But, at the risk of this, we are constrained to point out that the duties of departments of agriculture do not lay in the direction the announcements indicate.

So far as we have any knowledge on the subject the governments have not been asked by any representative bodies of farmers to distribute stock at "reasonable" prices. But, organizations of stockmen and farmers have asked the Dominion Government to secure protection for farmers in connection with stock killed on railways, to secure more equitable regulations with respect to fencing on railway right-of-way, to lend financial assistance toward the carrying on of live stock exhibitions, to endeavor to provide loans to farmers to purchase stock, to endeavor to adjust conditions so that farmers could borrow more readily on grain or stock, and in various ways to encourage live stock raising without entering into the purchase and sale of stock to individual farmers or hire them to associations.

As for the provincial government, the plan of deliberately competing with enterprising stockmen in supplying the limited demand for breeding stock cannot be defended on any grounds of principle or necessity. Men who engage in the business of breeding pure-bred stock make their initial outlay and decide upon their plans having regard to existing conditions and their judgment of normal development, and the action of the government is simply to introduce an abnormal condition, to create an artificial price and to upset carefully laid plans for progressive effort on the part of enterprising farmers. Nor is there any assurance that this is but a temporary incident; in fact, there is every indication that it is to be a permanent policy and that the business of breeding pure-bred stock in Alberta is to be made a government monopoly or at least the prices are not to be subject to the free play of natural forces in the industry but to government regulation.

It seems to us that in the interests of the stock-raising industry the time has come for the stockmen to protest and to suggest more emphatically to the government lines of activity for the exercise of their efforts.

CANCER STUDY

How far the commonly assumed great increase in the mortality from cancer is real and how far it is the result of a better knowledge of the facts on the part of the doctors, can only be judged by those who have the means of weighing the evidence. We need strong assurance of the actuality of the increase, not to discount the figures a good deal. At all events it is well known that the problem of the increase as shown by statistics, which is as noticeable in Canada as in other parts of the world, is one that is taxing every energy of pathological research, and so far with no very definite result. The strain of modern living with its accompanying nervous disorders, improper diet, and disturbance of the bodily functions are all supposed to be in some measure responsible, but the fact remains that little can yet be asserted about a disease which is yearly claiming thousands of victims. In this connection, statistics recently issued by the British Society for the Prevention and Relief of Cancer present some interesting points for consideration. In the United Kingdom in 1910, 43,134 persons are on record as having died from cancer—960 persons out of every million living. In 1881, only 1,7,365 persons died—497 per million living. Thus in thirty years the death rate had doubled. In 1851 the percentage of cancer deaths to deaths from all causes in England and Wales was 1.39; in 1910 it had risen to 7.16, an increase of 442 per cent. in 60 years.

Taking the separate areas in which the greatest and least number of deaths occurred, we get a suggestive fact. The highest death percentage was found in agricultural counties, the lowest in mining and manufacturing districts. The entirely agricultural county of Huntington, with a clay and gravel soil, showed for the years 1901-10 a death rate of 10 per cent., while Sussex, Cambridge and Oxford were all within one per cent. of this unenviable record. Monmouth, Glamorgan and Durham, counties in which coal mining is the staple industry, on the other hand, showed a death rate of less than four per cent., while Staffordshire, also to some extent a coal county, was not greatly in excess of that figure. It seems, therefore, that an agricultural laborer is twice as liable to fall a victim to the dread disease as a collier. Another point worthy of attention is indicated by the fact above mentioned that Huntingdonshire possesses a clay and gravel soil. This is true also of its neighbor, Cambridgeshire, while in Sussex clay and chalk and in Oxford chalk and limestone are the prevailing geological formations. In Monmouth and Glamorgan, loam and sandstone are among the principal formations, while in the four counties comprising the group, clay is little met with. Thus it will be seen that the cancer-infested areas are primarily those with a heavy waterholding soil—a stodgy soil, especially in the fens of Huntington and Cambridge. And here it may be mentioned that the entire Thames valley and the districts around its tributaries show a relatively high cancer death rate.

These remarkable differences seem to imply that there may be causes predisposing to cancer even outside modern living conditions, and, at all events, that valuable information may be sought for in the study of local conditions. Canada is so large and the population, comparatively, so sparse, that a fair comparison on the lines we have indicated could not be made with very great success, but enough has been said to show that it is worth while to investigate. Of course, the greater number of deaths occur among women, but the rate is almost stationary, while the male death rate is rapidly rising. The large proportion of male victims, however, are of greater age than the women, the average age at which it occurs being between 45 and 55 in the case of the men, and ten years younger in that of the women. But it seems obvious that the causes contributing to the increase of the disease are partly local, and a good deal may be looked for from the gathering of facts the world over along this line which seems to have been hitherto very imperfectly followed.

BUILD BETTER BRIDGES WITH BETTER ROADS.

While the campaign for better roads is on, the need of more and better bridges should not be overlooked. The tractor has come to stay, and its numbers are increasing every day. Heavy tractors demand strong bridges. A recent accident near North Battleford, in which a tractor went through a bridge, is not an unusual instance of the dangers that lurk in the bridges of the west. Luckily there were no deaths in this instance as is the case sometimes. For the protection of life and property bridges should be inspected often and assurance made that they will hold machinery as heavy as a tractor. Good bridges are absolutely necessary for the use of tractors, and as tractors are essential to the development of the prairie provinces, those districts which are most progressive in keeping their bridges in good condition and building new ones where needed are the ones that naturally advance fastest. Build more bridges and keep those already built in tractor condition.

130 ATLANTIC AVE., MONTREAL, MARCH 1st, 1912.

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives". After using three packages, I felt relieved and continued until I had used five packages when a complete cure was the result after years of doctoring failed. I consider "Fruit-a-tives" a wonderful remedy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial to prove to others the good that "Fruit-a-tives" has done me"

ONLY THREE BIG CIRCUSES.

Only Three Shows of the First Class Traveling on the Road.

There are only three of the circuses of the first class traveling on the road today. That is, there are only three circuses carrying three rings in which the performance is given. These circuses are the Barnum & Bailey, The Ringling and The Yankee Robinson circus. All of these shows have three rings, two elevated stages and the usual hippodrome track where the races are held. The Robinson circus gives the Wild West performance in the hippodrome track. The other two shows do not carry the Wild West annex, but give a spectacular performance in addition to the circus.

The Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, speaking of the Robinson circus, states that the performance is on a par with either the Barnum and Ringling circus, and states emphatically that the present Yankee Robinson circus will excel the Barnum show within a few years. This circus will appear in Lacombe on June 13.

What This Sectional Firepot Means to You

These are some of the advantages of the Sunshine Furnace. Our agent will be pleased to show you others, or write for booklet.

The "Sunshine" has a straight-sided semi-steel firepot, extra heavily ribbed and made in two sections. The two sections allow for contraction and expansion—which prevents cracking. The heavy ribs and semi-steel give extra strength and added radiating surface. Ashes cannot adhere to the straight sides which assures an all-over clear fire. This means the greatest heat from the fuel consumed.

RIMBEY

The members of the Anglican Church have arranged for an afternoon of sports and an evening entertainment and supper at the hall on the 6th of June.

A social gathering and supper will be held in the English Church grounds on June 6th. Games and sports in the afternoon; supper at 6 o'clock, to be followed by interesting program. Tickets, including supper, 25c.

Robert Watt spent the latter part of last week in Penoka, where he went on Thursday to haul out a load of household goods for Mr. Jordan. The goods not having arrived, Robert was detained there until Monday.

Miss Smith, teacher at the Symonds school, met with an accident last Sunday morning in jumping from a buggy in which she was sitting, when the team, which was only partly hitched up, started to run, and received injuries which has confined her to the house several days this week.

The local U.F.A. decided at their regular meeting last Saturday night to hold their annual picnic on Dominion Day. Arrangements are being made to make the day much better than ever before.

The annual cemetery meeting has been called for Monday at 2 p.m., June 2nd, at Rimbey. Almost every year this meeting has had to be postponed from time to time on account of there not being enough present to do business. Now everyone owning a lot in the cemetery is virtually a director, and it seems too bad that we should so far neglect our duty to our loved ones that have passed away as to be unable to spare one day each year for a meeting to transact such business as may be necessary in connection with the up-keep of the cemetery. The cemetery is in a very bad condition. Everybody interested should be at this meeting and make arrangements to clean up their lots; also the gates should be hung. Remember the date, June 2.

The necessity of knowing how to render "first aid to the injured" was demonstrated at Rimbey last week, when Mr. Wm. Cork cut the ulner vein in his hand while butchering, and but for the timely assistance of those who knew how, would have bled to death. As it was, he was left very weak from loss of blood.

Passing Events

The reply of the Balkan allies to the note of the Powers in regard to a peace conference in London has been handed to the ministers. The note says the allies are ready to cease hostilities and to agree on London as the meeting place for a peace conference, to which they will appoint the same plenipotentiaries as represented them on the previous occasion. Plenipotentiaries are now gathering in London and it is expected that a treaty will be signed early next week.

Marcel G. Brendejonc, a French aviator, has just crossed the Strait of Dover in twenty minutes, making a new record.

Mr. J. M. Hogge, M. P., speaking at the Chief Constables' Association of London on the relation of betting and gambling to crime, said that from $375,000,000 to $500,000,000 was spent annually in Great Britain on football coupon gambling. He strongly condemned the distribution of football coupons in factories and the competitions held by some weekly newspapers.

A public duel with swords was fought seven miles from Paris to settle a long-standing dispute between two young Frenchmen, one of whom was the son of a member of the Chamber of Deputies. The latter was seriously wounded in the right breast.

The International Institute of Agricultural meeting at Rome took up the question of the price of meats, and decided to collect statistics on cattle throughout the world and also the consumption of meats in different countries. The purpose is to find the best means of combatting the rising price of meats.

Mr. F. P. Gutelius has been appointed general manager of the Canadian Government railways at a salary of $20,000 and the old board managing the Intercolonial Railway will be discontinued.

The National Council of Women of Canada meeting at Montreal favored severer penalties and thorough, well-planned vigilance in the war on the social evil. The unfairness of placing the blame mostly on the erring women and not equally on the men as well, was also emphasized. The figures quoted stated that there were 200,000 women involved in the traffic in America, which required 60,000 new recruits every year, and that the total cost, direct and indirect, was $3,000,000,000 yearly to the United States, and $125,000,000 to Canada. The question of the feeble-minded people was also seriously discussed and government action strongly urged. It was stated that there were many thousands of mentally defective people at large in Canada who were allowed to marry and thus increase the number of feeble-minded. Heredity was said to be the source of nine-tenths of the problem.

The Underwood tariff bill has passed the House of Representatives at Washington by a majority of 281 to 139. Five Democrats voted against the bill and two Republicans voted for it. Of the Progressives four were for it and fourteen against it.

The British Government has announced that no more opium would be sent from India to China this year, and it was probable that the traffic would never be resumed.

A remarkable incident in connection with the session of the international committee arranging in New York for the Peace Centenary celebration was a speech by Professor Munsterberg, the famous psychologist of Harvard University, condemning the whole celebration as part of a scheme by which Britain hoped to strengthen herself in the rivalry with Germany. A delegation from the Irish-American and German-American societies also protested to Mayor Gaynor against the proposed "peace day" program in the public schools, as it is calculated to poison the children's minds with false political theories, aimed not only at American patriotism but also at the present harmony between the various races in America. Needless to say these outbreaks will have no effect on the peace celebration and the peace movement.

Blaming the Nationalist members of the House of Commons for defeat of the Women's Franchise Bill, the militant suffragettes have threatened vengeance by means of a wild campaign of disorder in Dublin.

Nearly a thousand Canadians and Americans will attend the World Sunday School convention at Zurich, Switzerland, in July.

A steeple of the handsome Knox Presbyterian Church at Stratford, Ont., was struck by lightning on the night of May 22nd, and during the fire which destroyed the whole building the falling belfry struck and instantly killed J. A. McCarthy, chief of police. Hugh Durkin, fire chief, and Mathew Hamilton, a police constable.

During the visit of King Alfonso XIII. of Spain to Paris last week the greatest precautions were taken to ensure the safety of His Majesty. When he went to Fontainbleau to review the troops the forty-mile route was lined with some 100,000 infantry. Every bridge was guarded and the woods near which the cavalry review took place were thoroughly scoured to see that there were no lurking anarchists. Since the royal visit the Secretary of the General Commission of Accounts, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, protested against the expense of entertaining European royalty. He said also that it was a general custom on the part of French governments to pay these accounts so as to provide funds for new furniture and improvements of all kinds which they desired to the buildings.

The five power group have finally accepted the terms of the new Chinese loan of $125,000,000, and the first instalment was paid on May 9th.

The 60,000 German coal miners who were on strike in the Buethen district since April 21, have returned to the pits, the walkout proving unsuccessful. The employers refused to grant any of the miners' demands.

It is announced by cable that Mr. Tudor, Minister of Trade in the Commonwealth of Australia, and Mr. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce for the Dominion of Canada, have now arrived at a general agreement regarding a trade reciprocity pact between the Commonwealth and the Dominion. The schedule of articles to be placed on the free and preferential lists will be discussed in detail after Mr. Foster has returned from his forthcoming visit to the State of Tasmania.

Elaborate plans for a simultaneous revolution arranged to break out in Ecuador and Columbia on May 11th, were discovered in time for the governments to frustrate the movement.

Major-General Von Lewinski, the Prussian military attache to Bavaria, was killed in Munich on Tuesday by a supposed lunatic, who fired three revolver shots at him. The assailant, whose name is Straffer, attacked the General on a crowded street, first firing several shots at him and then turning his weapon on Police Sergeant Pollender, who ran to the officer's assistance. The policeman was killed by a shot through the heart. General Von Lewinski was a promising officer of the general staff and occupied an important position connected with the co-operation of the Prussian and Bavarian armies.

The Dowager Duchess of Newcastle died in London on Saturday, aged seventy-one. She devoted the last twenty years of her life after the death of her second husband, Tom Hohler, to charitable work, and resided among the slums of Whitechapel.

Mr. Bryan's wineless dinner to the Diplomatic Corps and the designation of official Washington by a facetious foreign journalist as "Wishy-Washington" form the subject of endless comments, satirical, sarcastic, and commendatory, according to the point of view of the speakers.

So widespread is the controversy now raging around the goblets of unfermented grape-juice offered to the Ambassadors of the Great Powers that the Secretary of State has been moved to issue a solemn explanation of his point of view. He complains that the newspaper references to the wineless banquet are inaccurate, and adds that the facts are as follows:

"This was the first dinner which we have given to the members of the Diplomatic Corps, and therefore the first time when we came into conflict with the social custom of serving wine at dinner. Seven other ambassadors there in Washington, and their ladies, were invited to meet Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce, and as all the gentlemen guests present were from foreign countries, I thought it proper to explain to them the reason for our failure to conform to what seems to have been customary in this matter. Believing that the issue should be met frankly in the beginning, I told them when we sat down to the table that Mrs. Bryan and I had been tee-totalers from our youth, as were our parents before us, and never served liquor at table, and kind enough to tender me that when the President was portfolio of State I asked him whether our failure to serve wine would be any embarrassment to the Administration, and he generously left the matter to our discretion.

"I suggested I thought it unfair to assume that those coming to us from abroad would judge us harshly, or be willing to tolerate the maintenance of a traditional custom, and expressed the hope that our friendship would be made so apparent to them, and our hospitality so cordial, that they would overlook this weakness in us, if they regarded it as a weakness.

"My remarks were applauded by the company, and we never spent a more enjoyable evening. That is all there is to the matter, and we can consider the incident closed, and the custom established so far as we are concerned."

The banquet has given a tremendous advertisement to makers of unfermented grape-juices, which Mr. Bryan pronounced to be a "most delicious and wholesome drink." It has also definitely substituted "grape-fruit diplomacy" for "dollar diplomacy"—the sobriquet applied to American foreign policy under Mr. Bryan's predecessor, Mr. Knox.

BECOMING A LIVE QUESTION.

Almost daily we are strengthened in the belief that within comparatively few years the present absolute gold standard of wealth will be abolished.

Hardly a day passes without the arrival at our desk of magazines or papers containing protests against the present universal monetary system. Economists—some of the greatest of them—are writing against it; farmers are decrying it because of the reduction in the prices of the products; labor is opposing it on account of the rising cost of living; socialists the world over oppose it on Marxian principles; students and thinking men the world over are turning against the system.

The remedies proposed are legion. Practically everyone now adopts the principle of regulated currency, instead of standardized.

One very noted American economist proposes that the government again resort to the expedient of exacting seigniorage, thereby automatically obtaining control of circulation of currency. As paper money is today the actual medium of exchange, we prefer our own plan of a more direct and more intimate governmental control of that commodity.

Means matter little, however. They are all to one end. The present system, self-confessed failure, is bound to go! Succeeding it will come a more rational method of adapting the supply of money to the demand, thus making the dollar as accurate and unchangeable in measuring value as the inch is in measuring distance or the ounce in measuring weight.

THE LUCKY NUMBER.

A superstitious man is alleged to have recently resolved to quit playing poker when it suddenly dawned upon him that there are thirteen cards in each suit.—Edmonton Bulletin.

It is much more unlucky to play cards when there are more than 13 cards in each suit—unless the odd aces are convenient to your own hand. And even then you might be caught at it, which is awfully unlucky.

News of the Lacombe District

Rocky Mountain House News

Beginning next week there will be a bi-weekly train service to Rocky Mountain House.

The many friends of John Sangster were pleased to see him in town on Friday last. Mr. and Mrs. Sangster are at present in Lacombe but will make their home here in the near future.

Mr. E. A. Green arrived in town Friday from Toronto, where he has been attending Wycliffe college, and will take charge of the church camp mission work in the construction camps west of here during the summer months.

W. F. Puffer, M.P.P., has again secured the meat contract for the construction camps west of here. His first shipment of cattle arrived on Friday in charge of Clayt Fincham. The boys will make their headquarters here for the summer.

The very best of brick clay exists in large quantities in close proximity to the town. Mr. James Anderson, an experienced brick man, has burnt a sample of the clay and pronounces the product to be first class. Samples of the clay have been sent away for testing purposes, and if the results are as anticipated there should be no difficulty in securing for Rocky Mountain House a good industry in this connection.

Brooksley News

The fine weather of the past week has given the farmers a chance to get their crops in in good shape, and a successful season is looked for.

There was a horse pulling competition for $150 a side at the farm of John Morton a day or two ago. Heine Jacobson had a horse that can pull some and so had John Morton. Heine had the idea that his horse was the stronger of the two and backed up his idea with a bet of $150. This was taken by Mr. Morton, and the pull took place on the level ground near the Morton home. A heavy wagon all wheels locked and loaded with 60 bushels of barley was the load. Morton was not long in moving this load a few feet, and then rested to give Heine a chance. His horse, a splendid animal, could not budge the load, therefore he is now out the hard cash. Mr. Morton says that if a good driver had taken the other horse in hand there is no doubt but that it was he who would have been the loser.

Stettler News

The exodus to Buffalo Lake will soon commence and several cottages are being build, including those of G. C. Bentley, J. N. Kennedy and George Skinner. N. Spiece has invested in a motor boat and M. Hartrick in a sailboat, while others are being built. The shores of the lake from Rochon Sands to Bashaw will be the scene of much development this year.

An unfortunate accident occurred on Monday morning to Dr. Staples near Ewing. He was driving along in an automobile to see a patient when he met Mrs. Will Lowry and children with a team and wagon. The horses became unmanageable and started careering around. One of the children got out of the wagon and stood in a dangerous position in front of the horses. Dr. Staples jumped out of the car and in an attempt to stop the horses he was thrown violently to the ground and the wheels of the wagon went over his leg and thigh. Although no bones were broken he received many severe bruises and contusions, and will be laid up for ten days. Dr. Creighton was phoned for, and brought him into town, and he is now under care at his residence in town. This is the second accident that has occurred recently in the attempt to stop unmanageable horses.

WITTENBURG

The councillors adjoining the town line on the north and south are going to work together to fix up the mud holes, and put in culverts, so we may expect to have a good road shortly. Mr. Thomas is the foreman.

We are having splendid spring weather and the crops and gardens are all coming along in good shape.

Ponoka News

Mr. and Mrs. A. Paton have gone to Edmonton, where they expect to make their home. Mr. Paton has just relinquished the position of farm manager at the asylum, and their many friends will wish them good luck in their new home.

For some weeks past beaver have been seen in the Battle river. They are located about 300 yards up stream from the C.P.R. dam. Going up in a canoe, they are easily approached, and can be seen busy feeding on the river bank.

Seeding may be said to be about completed, and the farmers are well satisfied. Notwithstanding that the weather has been somewhat cold, the work has gone ahead rapidly, and now for a good summer and perfect fall. Reports go to show that there is a larger acreage under crop this year than last.

The Alberta Gazette says that Charles M. Campbell has been appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits. We believe he is the first man from Michigan, living in this vicinity, who has had such a mark of distinction conferred upon him. Charlie's many friends will shower congratulations on hearing of his being appointed to such a lucrative position. Mr. Campbell's chambers are to be found in the town of Morningside, eight miles south of Ponoka, and twelve miles north of Lacombe. His services can be had at all hours.

Alix News

There died at Bashaw on Sunday last one of the old-timers of this vicinity in the person of Dr. Walker.

On Monday R. L. Toepfer was exhibiting a young chick which had four perfectly formed legs, two in front and two behind. Otherwise the bird was natural. After breaking the shell it lived out an hour.

Monday evening on going to the back door, Mrs. W. L. Pettet spied a goose soaring over the lake. Hustling back she procured a gun and awaiting an opportunity fires three shots which brought the bird to earth. This is the fifth goose that has been shot by Mr. and Mrs. Pettet from their door steps this season.

Mrs. Frank Frost left Monday, May 19, for her home in Laverne, Minn., after a three weeks' visit with her brothers, the Whitesell brothers of Bentley, and Mrs. A. Walker, of Alix; she was accompanied from Bentley to Alix by Mrs. Walker's mother, Mrs. L. Whitesell.

BLACKFALDS

The celebration held here yesterday was a great success in every way. There was a large turnout and the people seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The following are the results of the sports:—Clive won out in the baseball tournament. Red Deer beat Blackfalds at football. Relay race, Sorenson and Headmark; boys' race, Alex. Sorenson; farmer's race, Miller; comrade race, Sorensen and Headmack; boys' race, Alex. Norton; girls' race, Jessie Mathias; running hop, Brown; running high, Tie; three-legged race, Sorensen and Headmark; vaulting, Headmark.

Mrs. Stewart, an old-timer, died here last Thursday. The funeral was held on Friday.

Mr. Maddon paid a flying visit to the town last week.

Mr. Hall is shortly going to put on another large clearance sale.

The town are putting in new crossings. They were certainly badly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. LeBlanc returned from Banff Tuesday last.

Ranch Home Burned

Last week fire destroyed the residence of A. C. Hare, near Tees, together with the entire contents. The fire was noticed about noon, and the heavy wind blowing at the time swept the flames through the building in a few minutes, giving the owners no chance to save anything. The loss on house and contents is $1,500, with a small insurance on the building, while the contents were uninsured.

LACOMBE'S OPPORTUNITIES

That Lacombe is the town it is today is largely owing to the energy, foresight and liberality of the citizens. It is true that without the assistance of nature man could not have done much. But without the assistance of man nature can only make a luxuriant wilderness. There are other places where nature has showered her blessings, but man has been slow, and there has been little real progress. There are other places where the citizens have done all that men can do, but they could not build a town. Nature endowed Lacombe very richly, and man did the rest. The efforts of the men of Lacombe ten to fifteen years ago may be forgotten by most people, but the results are not dead.

In those days large numbers of pamphlets were sent out broadcast, giving descriptions of the district, and letters from those who had already settled here. There are many prosperous farmers in the district today whose attention was first directed towards Lacombe by those folders. Only those who tried to travel them know what the roads were in those days. Those who complain of the rough spots now have no idea of the condition when the farmers along those roads turned out and for days and some cases weeks worked gratuitously to make it possible to get to town. Even then they could not always do it, and the citizens of the town put their hands into their pockets, or drew on some very small bank accounts to supplement the farmers' efforts, and made it possible for the settlers to get into town.

These things may sound like ancient history, or the doings of a far-away land, but some of those who did it still go about town without any gray hairs. It is easy to forget. It does not take much time. But today Lacombe is one of the best towns in the Province, largely because of the class of people who were here a few years ago. Those of them who are still among us we appreciate; those who have left us we remember with pleasant memories.

But will we imitate their example. Have the citizens of Lacombe and district as much get-up-and-go in them as those of a few years ago. We shall soon know. Another crisis is upon us. Not the old problem, but a larger one for more people to handle. Then it was a question of whether Lacombe would be a good town or not being. The question was answered satisfactorily, and Lacombe is a good town. But there is no resting place. The question now confronting the people of Lacombe is, will Lacombe be a quiet country town, a back number, or the wealthy, busy centre of a rich and prosperous country?

This question the present people of Lacombe will answer. The answer will be given soon. Time and tide waits for no man. Opportunity knocks once at your door, and if you are asleep does not wait for you to get up and bathe your eyes. Opportunity is knocking at the door of Lacombe. Are we asleep or awake?

When the people of Lacombe were wrestling with the question of impassible roads, neither Calgary nor Edmonton had as many people as Lacombe has now. What opinion would then have been expressed of the man who would have said that within twenty years Alberta would have two cities with a population of about seventy thousand each? About the same as they say about the man who today declares that there is no good reason why another twenty years should not see Lacombe one of the important cities of Canada. One is as true as the other. Another twenty years will see more cities in Alberta than there are in Ontario today. The wiseacres who laugh at the enthusiasts who see big can do much to bring about the fulfillment of their own small visions.

Just think a minute what it would mean to make Lacombe a city of say twenty-five thousand people. Can you put it in dollars and cents? How much would town lots be worth? What would you ask for your farm then? And it can be done. It will not take as big an effort proportionately as it took to make the town what it is. A few thousand dollars well spent. A lot of hard thinking, and careful planning. A lot of laying aside of petty jealousies. A lot of looking for some good in the other fellow. A long pull, a strong pull, a pull together, and behold it is done.

A few generations ago a strange art, supposed to be supernatural, known by the name of spirit rappings, was exploited. A few men placed their hands on a table for a few minutes, and then one of them called on the table to perform wonderful feats, and the table responded like an animate thing. It was wonderful. Many stood in awe of it. But cool scientists studied it and found that it was simply the natural control of mind over matter. If a number of persons will place their hands on a table for some time, and then can get all their minds to work in unison, the table will do practically anything they think it is going to do. It has been proven a thousand times. Mind is triumphant over matter. So it is with our town. If those who have their hands on it will only think alike they can make of it what they will. If those with their hands on the table differed, some expecting it to do one thing, some another, it simply stood still. So it is with Lacombe. The people divided can keep it back. The people united can make it go ahead as fast as their expectations reach.

But experiments brought out another strange feature of table rapping. If half a dozen men of one mind have their hands on the table and tell it to do certain things, a dozen men cannot hold it back. It will move in spite of them. If there are in and around Lacombe today one hundred men who will unite to make Lacombe a large and important place, all the opposition thousands can throw in their way will not hold them back. The opportunity is here. And we believe the men are here to do the work.

Some may ask how this work is to be done. What lines are we to follow. It is useless to suggest plans until the will is aroused. You are not interested in the plans of houses until you desire to build. Then plans are not hard to get. Plans would only be a spurce of amusement just now to anyone who does not want Lacombe to grow. But get a considerable number of our citizens filled with the desire to make our town grow, and plans will come fast enough.

What is wanted just now is to get the people considering the opportunity that is coming very near. Lacombe the best ever town, Lacombe the best ever distributing centre, with Lacombe has the opportunity cheap and abundant power sure of becoming, you cannot retain to come soon. What does that your reputation for sanity and open the door to? That will guess the whole truth. Try to stand some study. It will do think the whole and tell part no harm to see a few visions, of it. Then get to work to fulRemember other centres have fill your own vision.

A Wedding with no gifts of Jewelry

Nothing to admire particularly.

Well, it needn't be that way. If you come to this store you'll find lots of new goods in Silver, Cut Glass, and it's worth your while looking anyway.
